Campaign Launched For the Abolition Of County Jails

Are "Menace to Society," Says Adolph Lewisohn at Meeting of Prisons and Prison Labor Committee

A campaign for the abolition of county jails was launched yesterday at a meeting of the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor at the home of Adolph Lewisohn, at Ardsleyon-the-Hudson. The meeting was in honor of Mr. Lewisohn's seventieth birthday.

"The county jail as it exists to-day is a menace to society," said Mr. Lewisohn. "It presents the most fundamental of all prison problems, and it must be abolished.

"Sixty-five per cent of the persons who are confined in county jails are nnocent. Many of them are material witnesses detained until the conclusion of the trial of some other persons susected of crime, and often these completely innocent persons suffer punhment more severe than is dealt out awaiting trial, who, according to the cent until convicted.

"In some states the county jails are used to confine persons awaiting commitment to an asylum for the insane. The injustice of this is obvious, for
